

Connect and Share Data with Nexsure Enterprise Application Integration (Nexsure EAI)

Do you have enterprise-class systems, or additional applications, that you need to share and synchronize data with from the Nexsure Agency Management Platform? If so, Nexsure Enterprise Application Integration is the API development toolkit you're looking for.

Nexsure EAI Description

As an extension of Nexsure's development platform, XDimensional Technologies has created an architecture for an application programming interface (API) toolkit that is designed to facilitate the sharing and synchronization of data between Nexsure and various third party systems, applications and environments. This optional module is offered as a subscription service on an annual basis, and is known as "Nexsure EAI" (Nexsure Enterprise Application Integration).

Nexsure EAI Setup

Nexsure EAI provides developers with a management console for the various integration systems that they set up for data sharing between Nexsure and the respective applications. Unlimited integrations can be established, with developer control over what interfaces / methods are accessible for each respective integration. The service provides a secured connection for client systems to establish access to Nexsure EAI Web Services. All Nexsure EAI projects need to be Web Services Enhancements (WSE) enabled.

Nexsure EAI Developer Resources

Nexsure EAI provides the licensee with Developer Resources such as an EAI Test Harness Application, which is a tool to perform test calls to EAI services for access and XML validation. A sample .NET application is also provided to assist with developer orientation, and practical steps in coding Nexsure Web Service consumption. Web Service Discovery information and links are included for method descriptions and interfaces. Online Help is also provided.

Nexsure EAI Includes the Following Features

- + Integration System Management for Setup & Configuration
- + Supports Unlimited Number of Integrations with Unique Parameters for Each
- + IP Filtering
- + Access to Library of EAI Methods
- + Test Harness Application Provided
- + Sample .NET Application Provided

To learn more about the Nexsure EAI module, and the other available options for the Nexsure Agency Management Platform, please contact the Sales Department at sales@xdti.com or 800-789-2567.